For questions 01 – 07, read the interview with Natasha Little, a rising star, and match her answers with questions A – J below. Each question can be used only once and there are three more questions than you need.

Mark your answers on the answer sheet labelled .

I play Dr Vicki Westbrook, who comes into the story when two of the spooks, or spies, go to hospital. She is a great character to play – funny and confident.

I enjoy playing evil characters, because you don't work under pressure. If your character is described as 'loved by everyone', then it's difficult to be as good as people expect you to. Also, I'm quite obedient in real life, so it's nice to have the excuse to be rebellious without the risk of being told off.

I always enjoyed acting but it wasn't until I applied to university that a teacher suggested drama school. That's where I gave my first performance, too. I've never been a show-off, though.

My parents were quite relaxed and calm and we travelled a lot because my dad worked for the World Health Organisation. By the age of ten, I'd lived in 11 different places, so I got used to meeting new people and being flexible.

She's more adventurous than I am. She used to love adrenaline sports, but any sign of danger and I'm running into the house. But she likes making things like birthday cards and so do I, so perhaps we are a bit similar.

Yes, my boyfriend, who is Polish, and he means the world to me. We've been dating for some time.

Yes, I'd like to have a family one day, but you never know what will happen in life. I'm 33 and aware of my age, but it's quite difficult to make plans about anything.

Part 2
(12 marks)

Read the extract from an interview with Jon Bon Jovi and decide whether the statements 08 – 13 are true (A) or false (B). For each statement also write the letter of the paragraph (a) – (e) in which you found the evidence.

Mark your answers on the answer sheet labelled x.

- (a) My life has changed dramatically since I became a dad. When I'm not touring, I get up at seven in the morning and I go to bed a lot earlier. I like feeding my daughter and bathing her. There isn't music all the time in my house any more, or me sitting at the piano at two in the morning. Those days are gone.
- (b) I have no regrets about the changes. This is what life is about. As a father you see there's more to life than just you, which is so important. You grow up and become more reliable. I can see now why people have so many kids. They are just the best.
- (c) When my wife was expecting the baby, I went with her to the ultrasound check-ups. It was very exciting. You could see the baby's fingers, its feet, its heart. Although I was interested in the healthy development of the baby a lot, I made sure we were not told the sex of the child. We didn't want to know and asked the doctors and the nurses not to tell anybody, so we wouldn't read about it in the papers.
- (d) One of the changes is that the baby has made me a lot calmer. Patience develops with time and I didn't have it at first. When Stephanie was crying, I didn't know what to do with her. My daughter has inspired me to write Hey God, a song, which will be included on the next album.
- (e) My lyrics are about social problems these days. They are the lyrics of a 33-year-old man. I'm not going to talk about the high school problems any more. I wish that people could understand and help each other more, I wish that people were less critical and a lot less self-ish, I wish we could live as one. That's what I'm writing about these days.

My father was very strict and he taught me to box and climb trees – I think in order to prepare me for the hard world of show-business. In many ways I was brought up as a boy.

I was very shy as a child, just like my mother. She was happy to stay in the background, while my father was the manager type. He had never wanted to be anything else but an actor and said that if he ever saw a talent in his two daughters, he would encourage it enthusiastically.

I was a very good singer from the very beginning. I used to sing everywhere. Looking back, I probably saw it as something to hide behind – a way of coping with my shyness. It made me feel good and gave me confidence.

As soon as my dad heard me sing properly for the first time, he was sure that I was very talented and took me along to our local department store in Kingston, where a band was playing. He asked the bandleader if I could sing a number with them and a week later I was still there! I loved every minute of it.
